SHELLING FORTS OF DARDANELLES

Thirty Big Men-of-War Hurling Projectiles at Fortifications

DAMAGE TO VESSELS

Cannonading Growing More Violent—Leading Families of Constantinople Prepare to Leave City.

Athens, Feb. 27—Two Turkish forts inside the Dardanelles are being heavily shelled by Vice Admiral Carden's fleet and part of one of the land batteries has been destroyed, according to dispatches received here today.

Thirty big men of war are hurling a tornado of shells against the Turkish works and so terrific is the cannonade that the thunder of the guns can be heard at the Island of Tenedos thirty miles south of the western entrance of the waterway.

Several vessels in the allied fleet have suffered slight damage. The Turkish shells, however, are badly aimed, and, despite the short range at which the engagement is occurring the forts have been unable to force the warships to retire.

The latest dispatches received here said that the cannonading continued and was growing more violent. The two forts under fire are the first Turkish defenses inside the strait, the outer forts having been demolished.

The people of Constantinople know nothing of the attempt to force the Dardanelles, according to advices received here. Members of leading families and of the nobility have been informed, however, and have made all preparations to flee to Asiatic Turkey, fearing the approach of a Russian army from the north may cut off retreat.

One dispatch received here today said that three imperial trains, with steam up, are being held at Haidar Posha, on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, Residents of the Prince's Islands, in the Marmora Sea, ten miles from Constantinople, have been notified to make ready to flee.

The Turks have assembled a fleet of about twenty five warships in the Nagara roads to face the allies if the Anglo- French fleet succeeds in forcing its way through the narrowest stretch of the Dardanelles. Against these Vice Admiral Carden will send the British battle cruiser Inflexible, carrying 12 inch guns, and the battleships Cornwallis, Vengeance, Triumph, and Agamemnon. The French battleships Suffern, Galuois, and Bouvet, with auxiliaries will give the allies a combined strength of at least twenty-eight vessels in the fighting line.

IS SHOT AS HE PRAYS.

Outraged Spouse Escorts Victim From Saloon to Home he Wrecked.

Caruthersville, Mo., Feb. 27.—Will Downing, 34 years old, a clerk, shot and killed Harry Cunningham, 35 years old, a boarder at the Downing home, Thursday, after accusing him of being unduly attentive to Mrs. Downing. Downing then gave himself up. Cunningham was in a saloon when Downing entered. Drawing a revolver, Downing said: "You have broken up my home, and I am going to kill you." No person in the saloon moved as Downing held the revolver against Cunningham's back and marched him to the Downing home, five blocks away. Cunnigham begged piteously all the way for Downing not to harm him. When they reached the Downing home, Cunningham knelt on the sidewalk and prayed for his life.

"I'll give you one minute to pray for your soul," replied Downing, and as Cunningham prayed, Downing shot him. He fell forward, dead Downing then went into the house, intending to kill his wife, he said. She had fled and has not been seen since.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A Montenegrin column operating in Bosnia was attacked Wednesday by a superior Austrian force, says a Cettinje dispatch. After a violent action on the banks of the Drina, lasting several hours, the Austrians were repulsed.

Official announcement was made in Paris yesterday that the French destroyer Dague, a vessel of 720 tons, was sunk by an Austrian mine in the Montenegrin port of Antivari Weduesday night. Thirty-eight men went down with the Dague.

The mystery of the murder of W. M. Gray, at Shubuta, Miss., last Sunday was cleared up a day or two ago, by the confession of the victim's 12 year old son, Raymond. The lad told the officers he killed his father with the shotgun because of a whipping he had received.

Supreme Court Justice Weeks, of New York, yesterday afternoon denied the application of counsel for a new trial for former Lieutenant of Police Becker, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. The application was based on an alleged affidavit by James Marshall, a negro, who testified in the second trial of Becker, by which he recanted his testimony.

Excitement over war changes at Constantinople that seemed to imply the altering of the entire world situation as to wheat smashed prices for that cereal yesterday in Chicago to a level 14 1-2 cents a bushel below the values current on Saturday last. May wheat at one time yesterday touched 1.46, a fall of 7 5-8 cents, compared with Thursday night, but closed nervous with a rally to 1.491-4, a net loss of 4 3-4 cents. July delivery was more largely traded in, dropped 5 cents to 1.20 1-4, and finished 3 cents off for the day. Capture of Constantinople would release probably 200,000,000 bushels of Russian wheat.

A rumor that his wife had entered suit for divorce brought Morris Nathan, missing for months, back to Washington on Thursday. He had been in Mxeico fighting with the Villista army. He located his wife at 926 Eighth street northwest, and tried to persuade her to agree to a reconciliation. She refused. Yesterday he called on her and after a stormy interview, during which he threatened her life, Nathan returned to his room at 916 Eighth street, only a few doors away, and at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon shot himself through the head and his death followed. Mrs. Nathan is about 25 years old. Nathan was 45.

HIGHWAY FUND CUT BY CONGRESS

No Appropriation For Continuance of Richmond Washington Road

SMOOT WAS OPPOSED

Virginia Received $39,500 Last Year—Fifty Miles of Purposed Highway Unfurnished.

Weshington, D. C. Feb. 27— The appropriation of $500,000 in the post-office appropriation bill to be expended in the different States to improve roads over which rural delivery is in operation was stricken out before the bill was passed by the Senate, by the objection of Senator Smoot, of Utah.

Under this appropriation passed last year $39,500 of the amount was expended by the Federal Government in improving portions of the highway between Richmond and Washington.

Seventeen thousand six hundred dollars was set aside by the government, with twice that amount provided by the State, to improving the highway from Spotsylvania Courthouse south towards Richmond to the South Anne River, in Hanover county.

Another $16,900 was expended by the government, together with twice that amount set aside by Virginia, to improving the highway between Alexandria and Pohick, near Mount Vernon.

Only about fifty miles now remains unimproved of the Washington to Richmond highway, and it had been planned to almost complete this work if the provision had gone through in the bill.

Senator Swanson argued the matter at length with Senator Smoot in an effort to save the appropriation, but the latter was obdurate. Of the half million dollars appropriated last year. Virginia received $39,500.

FOODSTUFFS CONTRABAND

British Reprisals Against Germany Will be Severe

London, Feb. 27—There is little doubt that all foodstuffs will be declared absolute contraband by the British government on the ground that they have been seized and are being administered by the German government. This, it is believed, will be the essential feature of British reprisals against Germany in retaliation for the submarine warfare which Germany has inaugurated upon merchant shipping.

There is good authority for stating that the allies, including Serbia and Belgium, have come to an agreement as to the general nature of these reprisals, although some details of the scheme remain to be worked out.

It is understood that Premier Asquith will make an announcement on the subject on Monday next, and that his announcement will include a statement of the position of the British government in regard to the recent proposition made by the United States for relief from the perils to which neutral shipping is now exposed.

One of the reasons which have actuated the government to make the reprisals against Germany as severe and effective as possible is the growing belief that some of the ships which were at first supposed to have been destroyed by mines, in fact were sunk by submarines. There is good reason for believeing that not only cotton, but all other material which can be used in German industries will be declared absolute contraband.

The ban on food and cotton will apply not only to shipments intended for Germany, but also to shipments intended for Austria and Turkey.

PREDICT GERMAN RETREAT IN EAST

Russians Claim Victory Over Kaiser's Forces at Przasnaysz

TEUTON FRONT IS CUT

Troops of Grand Duke Nicholas Said to be Proceeding Steadily Toward Eastern Prussia.

Petrograd, Feb. 27—General retreat of the German armies in northern Poland was predicted at the war office today as a result of a Russian victory at Przasnysz.

It was asserted that the Russian advance in the Przasnysz region had cut through the German front extending from the Niemen to the Vistula, and that the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas were proceeding steadily toward the east Prussian frontier, thus menacing the Germans along the Niemen-Bobr-narew front.

Repulse of the Germans at Przasnysz and defeat of a new Austrian movement toward Lemberg, were also claimed in dispatches.

German assaults upon the fortiged Russian positions at Przasnysz were beaten off. The Germans threw several regiments into the attack. They swarmed on toward the town in the face of a hot machine fire suffering enormous losses. Russian heavy artillery caused still heavier casualties and the enemy was forced to retire.

It was admitted that the Czar's troops also lost heavily in the battle which continued for twenty four hours.

ITALIANS IN WAR RIOT

Those Who Favor Country Entering Conflict Clash With Advocates Of Neutrality

Genoa, Feb. 27—One person was killed and many were wounded during riots at Ventimiglia which resulted from a demonstration in favor of the maintenance of neutrality by Italy. A counter demonstration by persons desiring the intervention of Italy in the war led to a serious fight.

Police and carbineer interfered, but were unable to restore order for time.

In the course of the fighting several of the police and a major of Carbineers were injured.

Milan, Italy, Feb. 27—Signor Mosti-Trotti, a Radical Deputy, died suddenly yesterday while he was delivering a speech in favor of the intervention of Italy in the war.

Signor Mosti-Trotti was addressing a large crowd in the Verdi Theatre. His remarks stirred the crowd in reply. As he reached the climax of his speech, amid an unusually enthusiastic outburst of applause, he suddenly pitched forward, dead.

Rome, Feb. 27— The Italian Government has decided to prohibit in the future meetings called for the purpose of arousing sentiment for or against Italy's participation in the war. This step was taken owing to the serious disorders which have resulted from such meetings in which a number of persons have been killed or wounded.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 27—When Constable Cherry of Norfolk county fired Thursday night at a negro car robber as he was about to leap from a freight car, the bullet missed its mark and lodged in the breast of Deputy Sheriff H. G. Harrell, killing him.

Harrell, Cherry and several other officers went to Pinners Point to round up a gang of robbers that have been stealing freight from the Southern Railway. The officers separated, and when Cherry saw a negro leaving a car he fired twice. One bullet struck the negro in the leg. The other struck Harrell. The latter died in a hospital in Portsmouth today.

SEEK HIDDEN FORTUNE

Part of Aged Couple's Hoard Found In Their Home

Beverly, N. J., Feb. 27—Following the double funeral Thursdayof Edward Kimble, 82 years old, and his aged wife, both victims of pneumonia, relatives began a systematic search of the homestead at Coopertown, hoping to uncover the hiding place of a fortune supposed to have been concealed by the aged pair, who had little faith in banks. Since the old farmer died Tuesday, a day after his wife succumbed to the disease, various sums have coome to light as preparations were made for the funeral, until nearly $1-000in gold and banks notes is now in the hands of the executors.

Kimble, who was known as a prosperous agriculturist, is said to have made his home his bank for large sums. No clews to the hiding-places of the money had been found among his effects, and so suddenly did death overtake both the farmer and his wife after they were stricken that there was no opportunity for either to take relatives into their confidence.

Between the leaves of books bank notes of large denominations have been found and old crockery-ware has given up portions of the old man's fortune. A rusty tin baking-powder can, thrown out with rubbish from a cupboard, was afterward found to contain nearly $200 in gold coins. Every effort to find a key to the hiding-place of the rest of the fortune has failed. The farmhouse will be searched from attic to cellar, the barn and the quest will also include the barn and outbuilding. Some of the negihbors recall seeing the old farmer digging in his garden late in the evening on several occasions.

Mr. Bryan said he was very much interested in the small colleges and that if he were going to found a college he would rather establish ten colleges with 200 students than one of 20,000. "The small college is the college of democracy."

In concluding Mr. Bryan said: "Young men, plant yourselves with these three principles: Do not sponge on society; bring yourself in harmony with God, and help to uphold the rule of democracy."

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were entertained during their short visit to Ashland by President and Mrs. Blackwell. The students gave the secretary a rah-rah reception, both on his arrival and departure.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27—Dashing across the street Thursday night while playing with comrades, 7-year old Dora Froloo of No. 716 Fairmount avenue was knocked down by a westbound trolley car in front of her home and killed. The car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when the child ran from the sidewalk, but the motorman Benjamin F. Shank, applied the brakes, bringing the car to a stop, but not before it had crushed out the life of the little girl. Shank took a jack from the car and raised the truck from the little victim.

DEATH OF CAPT. MURPHY

Former Commander of Alexandria Light Infantry Expires Suddenly Last Night

Captain Patrick J. Murphy, a former captain of the Alexandria Light Infantry, and a well known resident of Alexandria dropped dead in the office of the yardmaster of the Southern Railway, at 8:30 o'clock last night

Captain Murphy went to work last night at 6 o'clock. Yesterday he consulted Dr. E. A. Gorman in reference to his health, as he had been sick for several days past. He was taken ill shortly after he commenced work and called Dr. Gorman up on the telephone. While talking with the doctor he fell backward, and when fellow employees reached his side he was dead. Heart disease is given as the cause of death.

The body was removed to Demaine's undertaking establishment and was taken today to the residence of Samuel Wade, 310 Commerce street where Captain Murphy boarded. The funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church Monday, at nine o'clock.

Captain Murphy was 48 years old and unmarried. He was a member of the Alexandria Light Infantry for more than twenty years. During the Spanish American war he was first sergeant, and upon the return of the company to this city he was elected first lieutenant. He shortly after retired from the service, but several years later was elected captain succeeding Captain Thomas B. Cochran. He held the office until 1907 when the campany was temporarily disbanded.

FEAST OF QUEEN ESTHER

Israelites Will Celebrate Deliverance of Race From Ahasuerus's Prime Minister

Tomorrow the Jews all over the world will celebrate the "Feast of Purim," sometimes called the "Feast of Esther," which festival is in commemoration of the delivery of the Jews, through the intervention of Queen Esther from the hands of the Haman prime minister of King Ahasuerus, who planned to exterminate the offspring of Abraham. This holiday is a feast of rejoicing and thanksgiving and is held on the fourteenth day of the Hebrew month of Adar. The word 'Purim" means "lots" from the word "Pur" because the enemy Haman had cast lots to fix the day for the destruction of the Israelites.

The festival is celebrated in various ways. The Jewish Sabbath school hold exercises appropriate to the occasion and in the orthodox and conservative orthodox congregations services are held during which the "Megillah" or Book of Esther is chanted in its entirety. The Reform congregations do not hold any exercises or services on Purim.

There will be no regular celebration of the occassion in the synagogue in this city, but in private homes some features will be observed.

THE BATTLE IN HAMPTON ROADS.

Major General Charles Haywood, U. S. M. C., retired, died in Washington yesterday. The deceased was a second lieutenant in the marine corps on the steam frigate Cumberland when the latter was rammed and sunk by the Confederate steamer Virginia (known in the north as the Merrimac) March 9, 1862. He fired the last gun discharged on the Cumberland while she was sinking, Captain Morris having ordered a broadside after his vessel was careening from the vital blow given by the steel prow of the Confederate ironclad.

The scenes enacted in Hampton Roads nearly fifty-three years ago revolutionized the navies of the world. The Merrimac had been a United States sloop-of-war, and was partially burned with other federal vessels at the Norfolk navy yard early in 1861. The hull was subsequently raised by the Confederates and a structure, composed of railroad iron erected over her. A steel prow was attached and some of the best patterns of guns of that day put aboard.

The rebuilding of the Merrimac was known to the federal authorities and they were hastening the construction of a vessel on Erricson's model to meet the ironclad whenever she might emerge from the Norfolk navy yard. This contrivance was called the monitor, and a movable turret was the main feature claimed by her designer. The Merrimac's decks were awash with the water, and her housework made her resemble crude pictures of Noah's ark.

Representatives of boards of admiralty of most nations had gathered at Hampton Roads to witness a conflict known to be inevitable and when the Merrimac started toward Fortress Monroe the foreigners, with glasses, repaired to the most advantageous points.

The history of this renowned battle is familiar to all. The Merrimac rammed the Cumberland, and simultaneously fired one of her guns at the ill fated sloop-of-war which displaced a gun and killed sixteen men. The rent in the side of the Cumberland was large enough for a horse and cart to pass in. The crew, however, stuck by their guns to the last. The sloop-of-war Congress in the meantime had been run ashore and was burning after having been a traget for the Merrimac.

The Confederates later destroyed the Merrimac near the mouth of James river, and passengers for Norfok are often shown a bouy which marks her resting place. The Monitor foundered off Cape Hatteras December, 1862, after but a short career.

The result of the battle in Hampton Roads sounded the death knell of wooden war vessels. It was shown that the Merrimac would have cleared Hampton Roads of all vessels on that eventful day had she been able to get close enough to them. She drew so much water however, and it took so long to turn her around that she was unable to follow fleeing crafts.

All nations began from that time to construct war vessels from iron, adopting the hint they obtained from the Merrimac and Monitor, and the dreadnaughts of our day are the evolution of those historic craft.

MOSES AS A LABOR LEADER.

The tenents of advanced socialism were presented to a large audience at Albaugh's Theatre, Baltimore, last evening by two of the prominent members of the Christian Socialist Fellowship Congress. The chief speakers were the Rev. W. D. P. Bliss, of New York, and the Rev. Bouck White author of "The Call of the Carpenter."

"Comrades and comrades-to-be" said Mr. White, "We learn that Moses was a labor agitator and organized a strike, among the brickyard workers, and that the Exodus was nothing more than a walkout.

"Isaiah and the other prophets," he said, were not mysterious persons, but statesmen protesting against the growing money powers of that day.

"And passing to the New Testament we find that Christ was a laboring man a carpenter, and served 18 years at the bench. He did not remain a carpenter because the economic conditions were fastening an iron yoke about his neck."

White was arrested and jailed for six months because he attempted to speak in Rockfeller Baptist Church of New York, without an invitation. His subject was the "Colorado Coal Strike."

The Rev. Mr. Bliss in the course of his remarks said:

"Sometimes it seems to us, when we read that Christ was laid away in a rich man's tomb, that that tomb was typical of the church, and that the second resurrection will come when the working people rise and receive their rights. It is because Christ has been betrayed in the church that the working men have walked out of the church."

Certain agitators, wearing clerical livery, have for some time been attempting to make the world believe that the Founder of Christianity was a socialist, holding opinions that organization is teaching today. The statement that Judaism was, in its origin, a huge strike in the interests of those doctrines has never before been apparent to most Bible readers.

ENGLAND'S POWERFUL GUN

Weapon, It Is Said, Will Be Discharged under Water.

New York, Feb. 27— "England's reply to Germany's submarine warfare is a powerful gun that will spread sharpnel with deadly force beneath the water," said the Rev. James O. Hannay, of Dublin Cathedral, on his arrival today on the White Star liner Batic.

"One gun aready has been finished and the completion of others is being rushed by day and night," he added "The people in England feel certain that Germany has established a base for her undersea fighters on the Irish east coast and many are telling a story of the discovery of a pipe attached to the submerged part of a bouy which was found to be connected to a large oil tank imbedded in a bog on the Irish coast.

"According to the story the discovery was made when naval officers altered the position of the bouy in St. George's Channel. I personally do not think this is very likely, as the east coast of Ireland is fairly well populated and it would be almost impossible to stock oil in any place without creating gossip. My own opinion is that Germany has a secret base on the Welsh coast or else her submarines are getting their supplies from a vessel which comes and goes under a neutral flag.

AEROPLANE CIRCLES CITY

Mysterious Aircraft Appears at Newport News From Parts Unknown.

Newport News, Feb. 27—The appearence of an aeroplane flying back and forth over the James River off Newport News, between 9:30 and 10 o'clock Thursday night, stirred the people here to a state of great excitement. The aircraft appeared suddenly from parts unknown, and after circling about for nearly half an hour, departed in the same mysterious manner, becoming invisible when it passed behind a white cloud.

There have been all sorts of conjectures, which, however, are without plausible foundation. Horse ships are constantly loading here for France and England, and recalling the attempt by a German reservist to blow up a railroad bridge in Canada, a few weeks ago, some of the excitable inhabitants feared an attack on these vessels, several of which are now lying in James River. The aviator, however, confined himself to a peaceful tour of the upper strata of the atmosphere, and made no attempt to violate President Wilson's neutrality proclamation.

BID AGAIN APPROVED

Offer of B. F. Johnson and Co. Favorable to Committee.

Richmond, Feb. 27— The State Board of Education yesterday received the report of the special committee—Messrs. West, Pollard and Stearnes—on the book contract proposition submitted by the Johnson Publishing Company. The committee recommende the acceptance of the offer, which is said to mean a saving of $70,000 to the patrons of the schools. In addition the exchange proposition of the same company is understood to be fra more advantageous than any submitted by any other company.

In this connection it is not out of place to refer to the results of some investigations regarding the Elson Readers. Mr. Stearnes says that the books are much higher in price, are not suited to the best work for pupils in the district schools, and in some respects are biased, provincial, and unfair.

RUNS AMUCK WITH PISTOL

Shoots Sister-in-Law Who Tries to Disarm Him, Then Wounds Her Brother.

Danville, Feb. 27— Robert I. Baugh, aged twenty two years, late Thursday, while under the influence of intoxicants, shot Mrs. Dan Baugh, his sister in law, through the hand, and A. B. Megginson her brother, twice through the legs. After being at liberty for two hours he was arrested by a police detachment.

The shooting occurred in Mrs. Baugh's home. Baugh was ordered away from his sister's house early in the afternoon because of his condition, but he returned at 2 o'clock and securing a heavy revolver he threatened the woman, who closed with him and tried to take the weapon away. The pistol was discharged and the woman's hand was partly blow away. Megginson, who ran up at the sound of the shooting, got one ball through the right foot and another through the calf of the left leg.

Policemen in an automobile, with shotguns trailed Baugh almost to the border line and pulled him from beneath some undergrowth almost in the river. He ran into a negro's home and threw his gun away when he realized the closeness of his pursuers. The weapon was found later.

HERRING FISHING GOOD

Catches In Chesapeake Said to Be Larger Than Usual

Heathesville, Va., Feb. 27—Trap fishermen on the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries have been benefitd by the recent action of the United States Army Board, granting them more liberal lines in the matter of placing their nets, and indications point to a very successful season. Some small nets have been put out and unusually large catches of herring have been made for this time of th yar.

The fishermen base their prediction of good season upon the fact that there has been much wet weather this winter, which is said to be indicative of a large run of fish. There is unusual activity among the fishermen on the bay and its tributaries.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

"High School Week at Movies" Begins Next Monday at Richmond Theatre—Preparations for Debating Contest

Arrangements have been completed with the management of the Richmond Theatre for a High School benefit week beginning next Monday. at this popular moving picture house. Good pictures will be shown all next week, both in the afternoon and evening, and the friends and students of the Alexandria High School are all expected to patronize the Richmond during this week.

One third of the receipts from tickets sold by the High School are to be for the benefit of the Athletic Association and the sum will be used to carry on the baseball season this year. Up to date the association has been in need of funds and the thanks of the organization as well as the student body and faculty are due to the management of the theatre.

Several hundred tickets have been placed on sale at Gibson's Drug Store and those wishing to attend the moving pictures during the week are requested to buy their tickets there and thus patronize the local school at the same time.

A called meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society was held Wednesday afternoon to make definite preparations for the debating contest, which has been decided upon as the way in which the debating medal will be awarded. At the meeting it was decided to begin this contest next Saturday night at the regular meeting and to run it through the next, six meetings, which will bring it up to approximately the end of the 1914-15 session. The subject and the first contestants wil be announced later. It is expected that about ten will enter the contest, about eight names having already been handed in to the secretary.

At the regular meeting of the society last Saturday night a very interesting program was rendered. The subject of debate was "Resolved, that immigration into the United States should be further restricted by a literacy test." The affirmative was taken by Thomas Wattles and Miss Louise Schwarzman and the negative by Miss Caroline West and Miss Ballenger. The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative. Only one declamation was delivered, the others having been excused until next time. Mr. Blanton acted as critic.

One of the prizes for compositions on subjects shown by the Pathescope machines when exhibited at the different schools was won by Charles Bender, A. H. S. '17, last week. Bender won the prize for an essay on "The Mosquito."

The Class of 1916 regrets the withdrawal of William Duncan, one of its most popular members.
